Garrison legal battle nears eighth month

By RON JAYNES

The legal battle between the state of Missouri and Corinth, Miss., physician Norman A. Garrison Jr. over a Sept. 8, 1974 charge that he murdered his ex-wife, Lee Ann Garrison, at her home in Kennett is moving toward the end of its seventh month. As it does so, both sides are awaiting a ruling by the Mississippi Supreme Court on the appeal of a Jan. 8 habeus corpus decision that set aside an extradition order and set the 32-year-old doctor free.

John B. Farese Sr. of Ashland, Miss., chief counsel for Dr. Garrison, has filed a civil rights suit in U. S. District Court at Oxford, Miss., asking the court to issue an order directing that Rex Armistead, Charlie Goforth, Billy Herron, Charles Wilson, Renfro Hayes and others in concert, combination or conspiracy be enjoined and restrained from efforts to deprive Dr. Garrison of rights and privileges guaranteed to him by law.

The defendants named in the suit have been identified as follows:

Rex Armistead, a resident of Hinds County, Miss., and A. F. Summer, attorney general of Mississippi.

Charlie Goforth, a member of the Mississippi Highway Patrol stationed in Corinth.

Charles Wilson, brother of the deceased and a resident of Brandon, Miss.

Bill Herron, a member of the Mississippi Highway Patrol Stationed in Southaven, Miss.

Renfro Hayes resident of Southaven, Miss., a private detective.

The suit also seeks to restrain the defendants, their officers, agents, representatives, servants, employes, employers, attorneys and all members and persons acting in concert or participation with them, pending the final disposition of the matters before the Mississippi Supreme Court from various other activities, including:

A. Further impeding, hindering, obstructing or attempting to defeat the due cource of justice in this matter in the state of Mississippi; and

B. Harrassing or interfering in any manner with plaintiff's exercise of the rights, privileges and immunities guaranteed him by the Constitution and laws of the United States of America and the State of Mississippi.

The suit was filed in mid-March and is expected to be heard by the Western Division of the Northern District Court during the first two weeks of May.

Since Circuit Court Judge W. W. Brown issued the Jan. 8 order dismissing an extradition order signed by Gov. Bill Waller, Dr. Garrison, witnesses who testified in his behalf and his attorneys alledgedly have been harrassed and threatened and acts of attempted sabotage have been reported.

Dr. Garrison, arrested Sept. 9, 1974 on a warrant issued at the request of Charles H. Baker, prosecuting attorney of Dunklin County was ordered returned to Missouri on Dec. 4 when Gov. Waller signed the extradition grant after weighing the facts presented in an Oct. 10 extradition hearing. The 32-year-old former Kennett physician contested the extradition ruling by requesting a habeas corpus hearing to determine if there was sufficient evidence against him to be brought to trial.

With the aid of the Mississippi attorney general's office, Missouri appealed Judge Brown's ruling to set aside the extradition order and the matter is now pending before the Supreme Court of Mississippi.

Dr. Garrison's suit alleges that the persons it names have interfered with his civil rights by conspiring to deter, intimidate and threaten witnesses who might be subject to testifying in his behalf in the future and have threatened witnesses who have previously testified.

The suit also charges that the group has engaged in a conspiracy for the purpose of impeding, hindering, obstructing or defeating the due course of justice in the state of Mississippi with the intention of denying Dr. Garrison of equal protection of the laws guaranteed him by the Constitution and laws of the United States and the state of Mississippi.

The suit alleges the following:

A. Charles Wilson, brother of the deceased, contacted a person in Memphis, Tenn., and said he would pay $5,000 and up to $10,000 to have Dr. Garrison killed and would pay up to $100,000 to have him extradited to Missouri.

B. Renfro Hayes, representing himself to be an "investigator" for the prosecution, attempted to secure the services of two persons in Corinth to steal a shoe, watch or other personal items from Dr. Garrison's home for the purpose of impeding, hindering, or obstructing justice.

C. Prior to said habeas corpus hearing, a person or persons unknown, broke into the office of one of the attorneys for Dr. Garrison to steal or otherwise obtain evidence pertaining to the habeas corpus hearing.

D. While Dr. Garrison was attending the extradition hearing in Jackson, persons unknown to him made an attempt to kidnap or otherwise harm his three minor children in Corinth.

E. Dr. Garrison could show that, during the habeas corpus hearing at Holly Springs, Miss., defendant Rex Armistead approached one of the witnesses, Dr. Charles Quarles, and inquired about the conditions under which he was testifying for the defense.

Upon being approached in court by an attorney for Dr. Garrison, concerning his business in confronting the witness about his testimony, Armstead denied that he had any interest in the Garrison case and emphatically denied he was "working" on the case.

Later, after the decision of the Circuit court, Armistead then announced that he was "now" appointed to investigate, as a special investigator working out of the attorney general's office.

F. Dr. Garrison would show that on the night after his testimony before Judge Brown, one of the witnesses, Ronald "Putt" Hamlin, was beaten severely about the head with "brass knuckles" by a person unknown to him, after being asked if it were not true that "he had testified on behalf of Dr. Garrison" that day.

G. That Armistead, holding himself out as an officer under the directions and command of the attorney general's office, conspired with Dr. R. Shelton of the Missouri State Highway Patrol to obstruct justice and to threaten a witness who had been mentioned in a trial and did further conspire to prevent or hinder the state of Mississippi from giving Dr. Garrison equal protection of the laws.

Also, that defendants Armistead and Goforth, together with Shelton, attempted to intimidate Mrs. Pam Miller into making statements contradicting witnesses who had testified in the habeas corpus hearing while the decision was under appeal by indicating that she could suffer dire consequences and possible prosecution if she gave the sworn statement which she was presumed to have given and which, in fact, she had given.

In addition, the suit alleges her husband, Mike Miller, and her parents were interrogated for the purpose of intimidating her.

H. A witness for Dr. Garrison, who testified at the habeas corpus hearing, was told by an intermediary that Armistead had two airline tickets for the intermediary and the witness (one Linda Sweat) to leave the country and that, if she (the witness) did not do this, a "contract" would be put out on her, without reference as to who would put out such "contract."

I. On or about Feb. 14, while Dr. Garrison was in Memphis, Tenn., the suit alleges that defendant Herron attempted to have the Tennessee authorities arrest him without a warrant of any kind and that Herron further represented that he would notify the Missouri authorities to issue a warrant for his arrest in a delilberate and calculated attempt to deprive Dr. Garrison of his due course of law within the state of Mississippi.

The suit states that "it is

State budget, insurance plan face House

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Consideration of the state's $2 billion budget and a no-fault insurance plan face the Missouri House on its return this week and the Senate has measures to eliminate the controversial waiting week for collection of jobless benefits and create a state minimum wage before it.

Gov. Christopher S. Bond also is to sign today a bill boosting unemployment benefits by 25 per cent with the increases going into effect immediately.

Work on the budget began in the House last week, with the first three of eight measures totaling nearly a third of the state's finances for the coming year given tentative approval.

Pending this week are bills to fund the executive branch, the legislature, mental health, higher education and social services including welfare.

House leaders hope to conclude all work on the budget this week so the bills can be sent to the Senate for consideration. Under the joint rules of the legislature, compromise work on the versions of the budget must be agreed to by both houses no later than June 8.

Attempts to eliminate the controversial waiting week for collection of unemployment compensation have failed in passed sessions. Under present law, persons becoming unemployed must wait a full week before they can collect jobless aid from the state.

Businessoups have strongly opposed elimination of that provision, claiming it will be costly for industry since many labor contracts call for business to pay supplemental benefits each week the state makes its payments.

Work scheduled on Highway 114

Widening and resurfacing of 2.6 miles of Highway 114 from the Frisco Railroad tracks in Sikeston to the New Madrid County line has been scheduled among this years projects, according, to Robert Hunter, chief engineer of the Missouri State Highway Department.

Work on the project has been tentatively scheduled to begin in July. The road will be resurfaced and widened from 22 feet to 24 feet.

Other work scheduled on Highway 114 includes grading, partial resurfacing, widening and replacing three bridges for 4.9 miles from the Scott County line to a point .9 miles west of Highway 60.

The project is part of a $195 million construction and right-of-way acquisition program for the 1976 fiscal year.

Hunter said some of the projects scheduled might not be started this year because of uncertainties in funding, obtaining right-of-way, developing plans and obtaining urban agreements.

Other highway work scheduled for Southeast Missouri includes in Stoddard County, the replacement of a bridge on Route AA .2 miles south of Route AC.

Garrison legal battle nears eighth month

By RON JAYNES

The legal battle between the state of Missouri and Corinth, Miss., physician Norman A. Garrison Jr. over a Sept. 8, 1974 charge that he murdered his ex-wife, Lee Ann Garrison, at her home in Kennett is moving toward the end of its seventh month. As it does so, both sides are awaiting a ruling by the Mississippi Supreme Court on the appeal of a Jan. 8 habeus corpus decision that set aside an extradition order and set the 32-year-old doctor free.

John B. Farese Sr. of Ashland, Miss., chief counsel for Dr. Garrison, has filed a civil rights suit in U. S. District Court at Oxford, Miss., asking the court to issue an order directing that Rex Armistead, Charlie Goforth, Billy Herron, Charles Wilson, Renfro Hayes and others in concert, combination or conspiracy be enjoined and restrained from efforts to deprive Dr. Garrison of rights and privileges guaranteed to him by law.

The defendants named in the suit have been identified as follows:

Rex Armistead, a resident of Hinds County, Miss., and A. F. Summer, attorney general of Mississippi.

Charlie Goforth, a member of the Mississippi Highway Patrol stationed in Corinth.

Charles Wilson, brother of the deceased and a resident of Brandon, Miss.

Bill Herron, a member of the Mississippi Highway Patrol Stationed in Southaven, Miss.

Renfro Hayes resident of Southaven, Miss., a private detective.

The suit also seeks to restrain the defendants, their officers, agents, representatives, servants, employes, employers, attorneys and all members and persons acting in concert or participation with them, pending the final disposition of the matters before the Mississippi Supreme Court from various other activities, including:

A. Further impeding, hindering, obstructing or attempting to defeat the due cource of justice in this matter in the state of Mississippi; and

B. Harrassing or interfering in any manner with plaintiff's exercise of the rights, privileges and immunities guaranteed him by the Constitution and laws of the United States of America and the State of Mississippi.

The suit was filed in mid-March and is expected to be heard by the Western Division of the Northern District Court during the first two weeks of May.

Since Circuit Court Judge W. W. Brown issued the Jan. 8 order dismissing an extradition order signed by Gov. Bill Waller, Dr. Garrison, witnesses who testified in his behalf and his attorneys alledgedly have been harrassed and threatened and acts of attempted sabotage have been reported.

Dr. Garrison, arrested Sept. 9, 1974 on a warrant issued at the request of Charles H. Baker, prosecuting attorney of Dunklin County was ordered returned to Missouri on Dec. 4 when Gov. Waller signed the extradition grant after weighing the facts presented in an Oct. 10 extradition hearing. The 32-year-old former Kennett physician contested the extradition ruling by requesting a habeas corpus hearing to determine if there was sufficient evidence against him to be brought to trial.

With the aid of the Mississippi attorney general's office, Missouri appealed Judge Brown's ruling to set aside the extradition order and the matter is now pending before the Supreme Court of Mississippi.

Dr. Garrison's suit alleges that the persons it names have interfered with his civil rights by conspiring to deter, intimidate and threaten witnesses who might be subject to testifying in his behalf in the future and have threatened witnesses who have previously testified.

The suit also charges that the group has engaged in a conspiracy for the purpose of impeding, hindering, obstructing or defeating the due course of justice in the state of Mississippi with the intention of denying Dr. Garrison of equal protection of the laws guaranteed him by the Constitution and the laws of the United States and the state of Mississippi.

The suit alleges the following:

A. Charles Wilson, brother of the deceased, contacted a person in Memphis, Tenn., and said he would pay $5,000 and up to $10,000 to have Dr. Garrison killed and would pay up to $100,000 to have him extradited to Missouri.

B. Renfro Hayes, representing himself to be an "investigator" for the prosecution, attempted to secure the services of two persons in Corinth to steal a shoe, watch or other personal items from Dr. Garrison's home for the purpose of impeding, hindering, or obstructing justice.

C. Prior to said habeas corpus hearing, a person or persons unknown, broke into the office of one of the attorneys for Dr. Garrison to steal or otherwise obtain evidence pertaining to the habeas corpus hearing.

D. While Dr. Garrison was attending the extradition hearing in Jackson, persons unknown to him made an attempt to kidnap or otherwise harm his three minor children in Corinth.

E. Dr. Garrison could show that, during the habeas corpus hearing at Holly Springs, Miss., defendant Rex Armistead approached one of the witnesses, Dr. Charles Quarles, and inquired about the conditions under which he was testifying for the defense.

Upon being approached in court by an attorney for Dr. Garrison, concerning his business in confronting the witness about his testimony, Armstead denied that he had any interest in the Garrison case and emphatically denied he was "working" on the case.

Later, after the decision of the Circuit court, Armistead then announced that he was "now" appointed to investigate, as a special investigator working out of the attorney general's office.

F. Dr. Garrison would show that on the night after his testimony before Judge Brown, one of the witnesses, Ronald "Putt" Hamlin, was beaten severely about the head with "brass knuckles" by a person unknown to him, after being asked if it were not true that "he had testified on behalf of Dr. Garrison" that day.

G. That Armistead, holding himself out as an officer under the directions and command of the attorney general's office, conspired with Dr. R. Shelton of the Missouri State Highway Patrol to obstruct justice and to threaten a witness who had been mentioned in a trial and did further conspire to prevent or hinder the state of Mississippi from giving Dr. Garrison equal protection of the laws.

Also, that defendants Armistead and Goforth, together with Shelton, attempted to intimidate Mrs. Pam Miller into making statements contradicting witnesses who had testified in the habeas corpus hearing while the decision was under appeal by indicating that she could suffer dire consequences and possible prosecution if she gave the sworn statement which she was presumed to have given and which, in fact, she had given.

In addition, the suit alleges her husband, Mike Miller, and her parents were interrogated for the purpose of intimidating her.

H. A witness for Dr. Garrison, who testified at the habeas corpus hearing, was told by an intermediary that Armistead had two airline tickets for the intermediary and the witness (one Linda Sweat) to leave the country and that, if she (the witness) did not do this, a "contract" would be put out on her, without reference as to who would put out such "contract."

I. On or about Feb. 14, while Dr. Garrison was in Memphis, Tenn., the suit alleges that defendant Herron attempted to have the Tennessee authorities arrest him without a warrant of any kind and that Herron further represented that he would notify the Missouri authorities to issue a warrant for his arrest in a delilberate and calculated attempt to deprive Dr. Garrison of his due course of law within the state of Mississippi.

The suit states that "it is

State budget, insurance plan face House

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Consideration of the state's $2 billion budget and a no-fault insurance plan face the Missouri House on its return this week and the Senate has measures to eliminate the controversial waiting week for collection of jobless benefits and create a state minimum wage before it.

Gov. Christopher S. Bond also is to sign today a bill boosting unemployment benefits by 25 per cent with the increases going into effect immediately.

Work on the budget began in the House last week, with the first three of eight measures totaling nearly a third of the state's finances for the coming year given tentative approval.

Pending this week are bills to fund the executive branch, the legislature, mental health, higher education and social services including welfare.

House leaders hope to conclude all work on the budget this week so the bills can be sent to the Senate for consideration. Under the joint rules of the legislature, compromise work on the versions of the budget must be agreed to by both houses no later than June 8.

Attempts to eliminate the controversial waiting week for collection of unemployment compensation have failed in passed sessions. Under present law, persons becoming unemployed must wait a full week before they can collect jobless aid from the state.

Businessoups have strongly opposed elimination of that provision, claiming it will be costly for industry since many labor contracts call for business to pay supplemental benefits each week the state makes its payments.

Work scheduled on Highway 114

Widening and resurfacing of 2.6 miles of Highway 114 from the Frisco Railroad tracks in Sikeston to the New Madrid County line has been scheduled among this years projects, according, to Robert Hunter, chief engineer of the Missouri State Highway Department.

Work on the project has been tentatively scheduled to begin in July. The road will be resurfaced and widened from 22 feet to 24 feet.

Other work scheduled on Highway 114 includes grading, partial resurfacing, widening and replacing three bridges for 4.9 miles from the Scott County line to a point .9 miles west of Highway 60.

The project is part of a $195 million construction and right-of-way acquisition program for the 1976 fiscal year.

Hunter said some of the projects scheduled might not be started this year because of uncertainties in funding, obtaining right-of-way, developing plans and obtaining urban agreements.

Other highway work scheduled for Southeast Missouri includes in Stoddard County, the replacement of a bridge on Route AA .2 miles south of Route AC.

Girls take top driving honors

These girls destroyed the myth that males are better drivers than females by taking all the top honors Saturday in the Southeast Missouri Explorers Safe Driving Road Rally at Poplar Bluff. Nineteen cars were entered in the rally. Each car had a driver and a navigator. The drivers had to complete a 100-mile, timed course. About 70 explorers participated in the all-day event. Those not entering cars, helped work check points. Nineteen Explorer posts from throughout Southeast Missouri were represented at the rally. Winners, from left are: Carman Willoughby and Janet Brown of Air Post 302 in Poplar Bluff, third place; Beth Ramey and Cindy Haupt of Law Enforcement Post 104 in Cape Girardeau, second; and Kathy Bolin and Bebe Betz of Post 109 in Caruthersville, first. The ultra-liberals who pushed and promoted this white elephant on the banks of the Potomac River were even fond of congratulating themselves on how many free tickets would be distributed to the poor.

However, according to Rep. H. R. Gross (R.-Iowa) it turns out that the people who really count at the Culture Center are those rich enough to afford $1,000 a year to belong to what Washington calls "a terribly elegant little group ... called the Golden Circle."

Those who have the wherewithall of $1,000 to toss around get first chance to buy the best tickets, "get to attend chic little parties for the stars of current attractions," and a plush private drinking spot where they don't have to rub elbows with the ordinary patrons down in the lobby.

The Kennedy Culture Center, by the way, cost $68 million --most of which was put up by you, the good old taxpayers. So it's too bad the taxpayers don't have a Golden Circle in which to drown their sorrows.

While we are opposed to censorship, we are all for voluntary restraint in the interest of human decency and sensible social action.

Unfortunately, television, motion pictures, the popular music industry, the writers of novels and of mystery-adventure stories, in particular, are exercising no restraint at all these days. In view of these prevailing attitudes of violence and thoughtlessness, inhuman behavior which horribly scar our daily lives in this last quarter of the twentieth century of what professes to be a civilized world, they certainly aren't doing anything to stem the tide, and neither are the advertisers who sponsor their output on television.

Gene Siskel, movie critic of the Chicago Tribune, looked backward at his five years on the job.

"If any one word sums up the experience," he wrote, "if any one word encapsulates the movies 1969-74, it is the word violent. In five years I've probably seen more than 5,000 people killed on the screen. I've seen casterations, decapitations, mutilations, acid in the face, knives in the back, hatchets in the skull, teeth in the neck, ice picks in the heart, knees in the groin, whips across the buttocks, spearing, burning, garroting, drowning ... Death has become a way of life for the movies." (And we add TV, with scarcely more restraint.)

"Certainly there was killing in the past with cowboy and war movies," Siskel continues."But never has murder been perpetrated with such exuberance, such drooling delight. In the '30s and '40s, we saw the gun off, but not the bullet hitting the victim. In the '50s and early '60s we saw the hit, but the camera rarely lingered. That late '60s brought slow-motions explosions, and now the '70s have ushered in the 'exultant second shot.'"

This is a truly horrible picture, unfortunately not overdrawn. And the worst of it is that it is all being presented in the name of realism, and no one seems to think very much about it. But obviously this isn't (or at least wasn't) realism. How many people do you know who not only condone but practice mayhem, sadism and glory in inflicting cruel and unusual forms of torture on their friends, their relatives or even their enemies?

So how far and how long do we let this brutalizing trend go before it does become a depiction of normal, rather than pathological, behavior? And how can we stop or even moderately reverse the trend? These are questions worth pondering as you watch or listen to pathological brutality -- or worse yet, watch your children soak it up.

MULTIPLE SCLERSIS CONQUEST NEAR

The largest medical award in American history -- $100,000 -- is now being offered to the individual(s) who discover a way to control and-or cure that "great crippler of young adults," multiple sclerosis (MS). That is exciting news, indeed, especially for those between the ages of 20 and 40 who are all potential victims of the dread disease.

This generous award, given by New York philanthropist Ralph I. Straus through the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, should do much toward hastening the conquest of MS -- a disease which, along with related disorders, has grounded approximately 500,000 Americans. Yet despite its danger, few of us know what multiple sclerosis is. Briefly, MS is a disease which attacks the central nervous system, destroying patches of the nerves' myelin sheathing, which is then replaced by scar tissue that interrupts and distorts the flow of nerve impulses.

When MS is finally overcome, most of the laurels will go to the National Multiple Sclerosis Society. Through the vigorous efforts of this large voluntary health agency, over $20 million has been poured into research programs alone and millions more for patient services since the Society's inception in 1946. The Society's 193 chapters and branches, 59 MS clinics, centers and clinical programs as well as 102 cooperating hospital clinics have brought relief and hope to MS patients and their families.

Multiple sclerosis strikes hundreds of thousands of Americans down in their prime, but thanks to the massive campaign that has been dedicated to the erradication of that crippling disease, the future looks promising. Public support of such endeavors will decide just how promising.

BUSY, PROFITABLE SATURDAY

February started with a flurry of bills, the largest of which, of course, was for our care and that of our wife, at the Salt River Nursing Home. But in the mail was one good letter, a check from Uncle Sam as dividends on our $3,000 life insurance policy which was all we could convert from our original Wrrld War I $10,000. It has been long been paid up but we felt it was revenue sharing when we got a check for $117.72 as an insurance dividend. It was abut the only tood thinng to happen to us Saturday. In the afternoon there was no one in the office but the writer, and it looked like more people came in than usual, one who got a bill that was meant for some other member of his family. But that othe member came in late and paid the bill. Then there was a merchant who hadn't received credit for paying a bill last month and had been rebilled. And one little boy who bought a newspaper and wanted a rubber band wrapped around it. "I use rubber bands in school, you know," he confided. We've heard they are pretty handy with paper wads a a miniature sligshot.

Fighting (?) The Ripoffs:
Vast U. S. Welfare- Medicaid Operation Has Two Probers; Now Seeking Only 10 More

WASHINGTON - In effect there has just been no one watching the Welfare, Medicaid and Social Security store despite the evidence, slowly straining through the vast Health, Education and Welfare Department screens, that at least five, possibly six billion dollars a year is pouring over the counters fraudulently or because of gargantuan abuse and bureaucratic maladministration.

For example, after weeks of renewed investigation I conclude that there still is a ripoff of some $2.9 billion annually in the moneys going to aid families with dependent children (AFDC). Since there are virtually no reliable statistics in HEW, it's difficult to tell whether this figure includes the annual loss of $1.5 billion in the absent (deserting) fathers category.

We do know that there is at least a 36.4 per cent nationwide eligibility error rate in the AFDC's $8 billion annual "program."

And I've just been told there are partically no valid statistics in HEW on what's being ripped off from, or lost through, "abuses" of, and in simple maladministration of, the $14 billion a year Medical Services Administration of the Social and Rehabilitation division of HEW, known as Medicaid.

This comes from one of the highest, most harassed HEW officials. He's honest. Lots of them high in the department are ethical. They're the newcomes. Dishonesty is not the word for all others in the department. Coverups would be a better description for some of them.

So no one knows what's being stolen. These vital statistics should be coming from all states. They haven't.

Why then has there been no outcry from the bureaucracy -- and from Congress, which has poured in more and more cash payout regulations and 'Acts."

And why has there been practically no fraud and security system for medicaid or the Social Security deivision, which handles some $70 billion annually (in far more services than just the old age checks)..

Mind you, for the entire huge HEW Department there have been only 23 security and fraud "investigators."

They're supposed to watch the $108 to $118- billion- a year HEW store.

Yet, there's been only one - count him -- investigator in the Medicaid central office. And he worked part time. The nine other HEW security men, recently reported, actually cover the Food and Drug Administration, the National Institute of Health, the Office of Education, etc.

There are 13 more investigators in the $15 billion a yekar medicare and the $55 billion a year Social Security programs.

A second investigator was hired just a few days ago for the Medicaid force totals some 200 people.

Further, the whole national Medicaid force totals some 200 persons -- about half in the national office and the rest in regional headquarters. Compare this with the 2,000 who administer medicare. How can a $14 billion a year Medicaid operation be handled by so tiny a force.. Especially when some of the 200 employes are ill, on leave or on holiday.. Can't be done.

One HEW official, who asked not to be identified, described the ripoffs as "orgiastic." That's understatement -- though it must be pointed out swiftly that there are honest needy, deserving poor and scrupulous vendors (doctors, drugists, suppliers). If not for the decent administrators, clients and vendors, my HEW source says, the Medicaid cost would spurt to $25 billion annually. It soon, will anyway.

This source woefully points to the inevitability of some sort of National Health Service.

"Unless we straighten out Medicaid before they rush the national service into the Bureaucracy," this chap warns, "scores of additional billions of dollars won't cover the cost, the red tape, the snafus and a breakdown of medical services."

Abuses run all the way from the gore described in a Chicago indictment of two doctors on charges of hiring killers to wipe out two druggists to get a piece of the latters' huge welfare profits -- to millions of dollars lost in abuse of medical treatment.

There's a federal grand jury sitting in New York's Southern District which has discoveed thievery running into the tens of millions. There are charges that welfare-Medicaid ineligibility has cost $40 to $50 billion in the past decade -- in an era of leapfrogging multi- billion - dollar fedeal deficits.

Yet even now the huge HEW Department, which handles about a third of the national budget, is getting only 10 new investigators, which would bring the total to all of 33 probers.

But there are no effective patient or vendor "profiles" which would give some central office a computer punchout of the teatment given or asked for by doctor (vendor- or client patient.

Obviously, there has been reluctance on the part of the states to investigate "welfare" because it might reflect on the poor. Nonsense -- it would aid the poor. And the easing of welfare and Medicaid money from the ripoff artists would ease the aching backs of the taxpayers whose cities and states are broke or soon will be.

JACK ANDERSON SAYS: Is Kissinger Losing Face?

By JACK ANDERSON
with Les Whitten

WASHINGTON -- With the collapse of his policies in Southeast Asia, Secretary of State Henry Kissinger may follow his friends Lon Nol and Nguyen VaN Thieu into premature retirement.

White House sources tell us that President Ford hasn't lost confidence in Kissinger. But almost everyone else in the top policy-making councils has.

The ink was hardly dry on the Jan. 27, 1973, Paris peace accords before the Joint Chiefs warned, in effect, that Kissinger had delivered Vietnam to the Communists.

Under the terms Kissinger accepted in Paris, the North Vietnamese army was granted a foothold in the South.

The Joint Chiefs predicted precisely what is now happening in Vietnam. Their secret estimate, as we reported on Feb. 1, 1973., was that President Thieu would not survive and that the Communists would win the final struggle for Vietnam.

While the Joint Chiefs looked upon this as a disaster, some policy-makers have contended that a Communist triumph would actually benefit the United States.

Not only would this stop an enormous financial drain, they argued, but also the rival Communist powers would wind up squabbling among themselves over Indo-China. The United States could enjoy the luxury of standing back and watching the developments.

The best available intelligence indicates that the Khmer Rouge, who are now taking over Cambodia, distrust the North Vietnamese and want to keep their country independent of Hanoi.

The Chinese are also reported to be wary of North Vietnam, which could develop into a rival Communist power on their southern flank.

The Russians, on the other hand, are trying to bolster Hanoi as a counterweight to Communist China.

The United States would have been better off all along, in the opinion of many experts, abandoning Indo-China to the rivalries of the divided communists.

But meanwhile, the opinion is almost unanimous in the backrooms that Kissinger has mishandled the Vietnam issue and that his policies have badly damaged the United States.

Footnote: Leading Democrats have quietly urged the White House to replace Kissinger with Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield. They believe Mansfield, out of patriotism, could be persuaded to serve as Secretary of State. He would have the prestige, they argue, to restore bipartisan unity to foreign affairs. Our White House sources insist, however, that the President is satisfied with Kissinger and would prefer to see Mansfield work in the Senate for a bipartisan foreign policy.

DIXIE DEEDS: Strong-willed Dr. Dixie Lee Ray, as head of the Atomic Energy Commission, sicced Justice Department criminal authorities on a fellow commissioner with whom she had major policy disputes.

Dr. Ray, now an assistant secretary of state, vehemently denies that personal hostility or policy differences figured in her complaint against the ex-colleague, Dr. Clarence Larson.

Nevertheless, it cost Larson a chance to be reappointed and has led to a nine-month probe by Justice authorities of 18 conflict-of-interest allegations.

Larson, a distinguished but politically naive Union Carbide scientists, was named to the AEC by President Nixon in 1969. At his Senate confirmation hearings, he admitted he held $71,750 worth of Union Carbide stock.

Because Union Carbide is heavily involved in nuclear work, Larson agreed to sell his stock when it rose to the price at which he had bought it. He also promised not to take part in AEC matters "directly and specifically" affecting Union Carbide.

But he told the committee he could not avoid all decisions that would touch on Union Carbide in a general way. On this basis, he was confirmed and sworn in.

Soon after Dixie Lee Ray took over the commission, she and Larson began to clash. Larson, for example, wanted to put more funds into nuclear safety regulations. Dr. Ray, however, was under orders to keep a tight budget.

But last spring, it was evident the White House wanted to reappoint Larson. At the same time he was invited to testify on Capitol Hill about a nuclear matter which could involve Unin Carbide.

Larson cautiously went to Dixie Lee Ray, advised again of his Union Carbide ties, and suggested that another commissioner testify.

Dr. Ray scooted up to see Sen John Pastore, D.-R.I., chairman of the Committee on Atomic Energy without advising all the other commissioners. Although Larson himself had brought up the question, Dr. Ray stressed to Pastore the possibility of a conflict of interest. Pastore agreed the Justice Department should be consulted.

Quickly, Chairman Ray and her general counsel, Marcus Rowden, worked up a case against Larson, won Commission approval, and shipped reams of documents to Justice detailing the 18 allegations. Larson believes every one of the activities falls within his commitments made during his confirmation hearings.

When we reached Dr. Ray, she declined to discuss the matter except to say that "the law requires in any case of suspected conflict of interest, that the facts be referred to Justice."

Rowden, who was named a commissioner to the AEC's successor agency a few months after Larson's departure, backed up his former boss, Dr. Ray.

"This is all played according to the book," Rowden told us. "I'm sorry from a human point of view that an idividual who is not a criminal got caught up in this thing."

The ultra-liberals who pushed and promoted this white elephant on the banks of the Potomac River were even fond of congratulating themselves on how many free tickets would be distributed to the poor.

However, according to Rep. H. R. Gross (R.-Iowa) it turns out that the people who really count at the Culture Center are those rich enough to afford $1,000 a year to belong to what Washington calls "a terribly elegant little group ... called the Golden Circle."

Those who have the wherewithall of $1,000 to toss around get first chance to buy the best tickets, "get to attend chic little parties for the stars of current attractions," and a plush private drinking spot where they don't have to rub elbows with the ordinary patrons down in the lobby.

The Kennedy Culture Center, by the way, cost $68 million --most of which was put up by you, the good old taxpayers. So it's too bad the taxpayers don't have a Golden Circle in which to drown their sorrows.

While we are opposed to censorship, we are all for voluntary restraint in the interest of human decency and sensible social action.

Unfortunately, television, motion pictures, the popular music industry, the writers of novels and of mystery-adventure stories, in particular, are exercising no restraint at all these days. In view of these prevailing attitudes of violence and thoughtlessness, inhuman behavior which horribly scar our daily lives in this last quarter of the twentieth century of what professes to be a civilized world, they certainly aren't doing anything to stem the tide, and neither are the advertisers who sponsor their output on television.

Gene Siskel, movie critic of the Chicago Tribune, looked backward at his five years on the job.

"If any one word sums up the experience," he wrote, "if any one word encapsulates the movies 1969-74, it is the word violent. In five years I've probably seen more than 5,000 people killed on the screen. I've seen casterations, decapitations, mutilations, acid in the face, knives in the back, hatchets in the skull, teeth in the neck, ice picks in the heart, knees in the groin, whips across the buttocks, spearing, burning, garroting, drowning ... Death has become a way of life for the movies." (And we add TV, with scarcely more restraint.)

"Certainly there was killing in the past with cowboy and war movies," Siskel continues."But never has murder been perpetrated with such exuberance, such drooling delight. In the '30s and '40s, we saw the gun off, but not the bullet hitting the victim. In the '50s and early '60s we saw the hit, but the camera rarely lingered. That late '60s brought slow-motions explosions, and now the '70s have ushered in the 'exultant second shot.'"

This is a truly horrible picture, unfortunately not overdrawn. And the worst of it is that it is all being presented in the name of realism, and no one seems to think very much about it. But obviously this isn't (or at least wasn't) realism. How many people do you know who not only condone but practice mayhem, sadism and glory in inflicting cruel and unusual forms of torture on their friends, their relatives or even their enemies?

So how far and how long do we let this brutalizing trend go before it does become a depiction of normal, rather than pathological, behavior? And how can we stop or even moderately reverse the trend? These are questions worth pondering as you watch or listen to pathological brutality - - or worse yet, watch your children soak it up.

MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS CONQUEST NEAR

The largest medical award in American history -- $100,000 -- is now being offered to the individual(s) who discover a way to control and-or cure that "great crippler of young adults," multiple sclerosis (MS). That is exciting news, indeed, especially for those between the ages of 20 and 40 who are all potential victims of the dread disease.

This generous award, given by New York philanthropist Ralph I. Straus through the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, should do much toward hastening the conquest of MS -- a disease which, along with related disorders, has grounded approximately 500,000 Americans. Yet despite its danger, few of us know what multiple sclerosis is. Briefly, MS is a disease which attacks the central nervous system, destroying patches of the nerves' myelin sheathing, which is then replaced by scar tissue that interrupts and distorts the flow of nerve impulses.

When MS is finally overcome, most of the laurels will go to the National Multiple Sclerosis Society. Through the vigorous efforts of this large voluntary health agency, over $20 million has been poured into research programs alone and millions more for patient services since the Society's inception in 1946. The Society's 193 chapters and branches, 59 MS clinics, centers and clinical programs as well as 102 cooperating hospital clinics have brought relief and hope to MS patients and their families.

Multiple sclerosis strikes hundreds of thousands of Americans down in their prime, but thanks to the massive campaign that has been dedicated to the erradication of that crippling disease, the future looks promising. Public support of such endeavors will decide just how promising.

February started with a flurry of bills, the largest of which, of course, was for our care and that of our wife, at the Salt River Nursing Home. It has been long been paid up but we felt it was revenue sharing when we got a check for $117.72 as an insurance dividend. It was abut the only tood thinng to happen to us Saturday. In the afternoon there was no one in the office but the writer, and it looked like more people came in than usual, one who got a bill that was meant for some other member of his family. But that othe member came in late and paid the bill. Then there was a merchant who hadn't received credit for paying a bill last month and had been rebilled. And one little boy who bought a newspaper and wanted a rubber band wrapped around it. "I use rubber bands in school, you know," he confided. Washington Merry-Go-Round
By Jack Anderson

JACK ANDERSON SAYS: Is Kissinger Losing Face?

By JACK ANDERSON
with Les Whitten

WASHINGTON -- With the collapse of his policies in Southeast Asia, Secretary of State Henry Kissinger may follow his friends Lon Nol and Nguyen VaN Thieu into premature retirement.

White House sources tell us that President Ford hasn't lost confidence in Kissinger. But almost everyone else in the top policy-making councils has.

The ink was hardly dry on the Jan. 27, 1973, Paris peace accords before the Joint Chiefs warned, in effect, that Kissinger had delivered Vietnam to the Communists.

Under the terms Kissinger accepted in Paris, the North Vietnamese army was granted a foothold in the South.

The Joint Chiefs predicted precisely what is now happening in Vietnam. Their secret estimate, as we reported on Feb. 1, 1973., was that President Thieu would not survive and that the Communists would win the final struggle for Vietnam.

While the Joint Chiefs looked upon this as a disaster, some policy-makers have contended that a Communist triumph would actually benefit the United States.

Not only would this stop an enormous financial drain, they argued, but also the rival Communist powers would wind up squabbling among themselves over Indo-China. The United States could enjoy the luxury of standing back and watching the developments.

The best available intelligence indicates that the Khmer Rouge, who are now taking over Cambodia, distrust the North Vietnamese and want to keep their country independent of Hanoi.

The Chinese are also reported to be wary of North Vietnam, which could develop into a rival Communist power on their southern flank.

The Russians, on the other hand, are trying to bolster Hanoi as a counterweight to Communist China.

The United States would have been better off all along, in the opinion of many experts, abandoning Indo-China to the rivalries of the divided communists.

But meanwhile, the opinion is almost unanimous in the backrooms that Kissinger has mishandled the Vietnam issue and that his policies have badly damaged the United States.

Footnote: Leading Democrats have quietly urged the White House to replace Kissinger with Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield. They believe Mansfield, out of patriotism, could be persuaded to serve as Secretary of State. He would have the prestige, they argue, to restore bipartisan unity to foreign affairs. Our White House sources insist, however, that the President is satisfied with Kissinger and would prefer to see Mansfield work in the Senate for a bipartisan foreign policy.

DIXIE DEEDS: Strong-willed Dr. Dixie Lee Ray, as head of the Atomic Energy Commission, sicced Justice Department criminal authorities on a fellow commissioner with whom she had major policy disputes.

Dr. Ray, now an assistant secretary of state, vehemently denies that personal hostility or policy differences figured in her complaint against the ex-colleague, Dr. Clarence Larson.

Nevertheless, it cost Larson a chance to be reappointed and has led to a nine-month probe by Justice authorities of 18 conflict-of-interest allegations.

Larson, a distinguished but politically naive Union Carbide scientists, was named to the AEC by President Nixon in 1969. At his Senate confirmation hearings, he admitted he held $71,750 worth of Union Carbide stock.

Because Union Carbide is heavily involved in nuclear work, Larson agreed to sell his stock when it rose to the price at which he had bought it. He also promised not to take part in AEC matters "directly and specifically" affecting Union Carbide.

But he told the committee he could not avoid all decisions that would touch on Union Carbide in a general way. On this basis, he was confirmed and sworn in.

Soon after Dixie Lee Ray took over the commission, she and Larson began to clash. Larson, for example, wanted to put more funds into nuclear safety regulations. Dr. Ray, however, was under orders to keep a tight budget.

But last spring, it was evident the White House wanted to reappoint Larson. At the same time he was invited to testify on Capitol Hill about a nuclear matter which could involve Unin Carbide.

Larson cautiously went to Dixie Lee Ray, advised again of his Union Carbide ties, and suggested that another commissioner testify.

Dr. Ray scooted up to see Sen John Pastore, D.-R.I., chairman of the Committee on Atomic Energy without advising all the other commissioners. Although Larson himself had brought up the question, Dr. Ray stressed to Pastore the possibility of a conflict of interest. Pastore agreed the Justice Department should be consulted.

Quickly, Chairman Ray and her general counsel, Marcus Rowden, worked up a case against Larson, won Commission approval, and shipped reams of documents to Justice detailing the 18 allegations. Larson believes every one of the activities falls within his commitments made during his confirmation hearings.

When we reached Dr. Ray, she declined to discuss the matter except to say that "the law requires in any case of suspected conflict of interest, that the facts be referred to Justice."

Rowden, who was named a commissioner to the AEC's successor agency a few months after Larson's departure, backed up his former boss, Dr. Ray.

"This is all played according to the book," Rowden told us. "I'm sorry from a human point of view that an idividual who is not a criminal got caught up in this thing."

Fighting (?) The Ripoffs: Vast U. S. Welfare- Medicaid Operation Has Two Probers; Now Seeking Only 10 More

WASHINGTON - In effect there has just been no one watching the Welfare, Medicaid and Social Security store despite the evidence, slowly straining through the vast Health, Education and Welfare Department screens, that at least five, possibly six billion dollars a year is pouring over the counters fraudulently or because of gargantuan abuse and bureaucratic maladministration.

For example, after weeks of renewed investigation I conclude that there still is a ripoff of some $2.9 billion annually in the moneys going to aid families with dependent children (AFDC). Since there are virtually no reliable statistics in HEW, it's difficult to tell whether this figure includes the annual loss of $1.5 billion in the absent (deserting) fathers category.

We do know that there is at least a 36.4 per cent nationwide eligibility error rate in the AFDC's $8 billion annual "program."

And I've just been told there are partically no valid statistics in HEW on what's being ripped off from, or lost through, "abuses" of, and in simple maladministration of, the $14 billion a year Medical Services Administration of the Social and Rehabilitation division of HEW, known as Medicaid.

This comes from one of the highest, most harassed HEW officials. He's honest. Lots of them high in the department are ethical. They're the newcomes. Dishonesty is not the word for all others in the department. Coverups would be a better description for some of them.

So no one knows what's being stolen. These vital statistics should be coming from all states. They haven't.

Why then has there been no outcry from the bureaucracy -- and from Congress, which has poured in more and more cash payout regulations and 'Acts."

And why has there been practically no fraud and security system for medicaid or the Social Security deivision, which handles some $70 billion annually (in far more services than just the old age checks)..

Mind you, for the entire huge HEW Department there have been only 23 security and fraud "investigators."

They're supposed to watch the $108 to $118- billion- a year HEW store.

Yet, there's been only one - count him -- investigator in the Medicaid central office. And he worked part time. The nine other HEW security men, recently reported, actually cover the Food and Drug Administration, the National Institute of Health, the Office of Education, etc.

There are 13 more investigators in the $15 billion a yekar medicare and the $55 billion a year Social Security programs.

A second investigator was hired just a few days ago for the Medicaid force totals some 200 people.

Further, the whole national Medicaid force totals some 200 persons -- about half in the national office and the rest in regional headquarters. Compare this with the 2,000 who administer medicare. How can a $14 billion a year Medicaid operation be handled by so tiny a force.. Especially when some of the 200 employes are ill, on leave or on holiday.. Can't be done.

One HEW official, who asked not to be identified, described the ripoffs as "orgiastic." That's understatement -- though it must be pointed out swiftly that there are honest needy, deserving poor and scrupulous vendors (doctors, drugists, suppliers). If not for the decent administrators, clients and vendors, my HEW source says, the Medicaid cost would spurt to $25 billion annually. It soon, will anyway.

This source woefully points to the inevitability of some sort of National Health Service.

"Unless we straighten out Medicaid before they rush the national service into the Bureaucracy," this chap warns, "scores of additional billions of dollars won't cover the cost, the red tape, the snafus and a breakdown of medical services."

Abuses run all the way from the gore described in a Chicago indictment of two doctors on charges of hiring killers to wipe out two druggists to get a piece of the latters' huge welfare profits -- to millions of dollars lost in abuse of medical treatment.

There's a federal grand jury sitting in New York's Southern District which has discoveed thievery running into the tens of millions. There are charges that welfare-Medicaid ineligibility has cost $40 to $50 billion in the past decade -- in an era of leapfrogging multi- billion - dollar fedeal deficits.

Yet even now the huge HEW Department, which handles about a third of the national budget, is getting only 10 new investigators, which would bring the total to all of 33 probers.

But there are no effective patient or vendor "profiles" which would give some central office a computer punchout of the teatment given or asked for by doctor (vendor- or client patient.

Obviously, there has been reluctance on the part of the states to investigate "welfare" because it might reflect on the poor. Nonsense -- it would aid the poor. And the easing of welfare and Medicaid money from the ripoff artists would ease the aching backs of the taxpayers whose cities and states are broke or soon will be.

Attorney injured in plane crash

ASHLAND, Miss. — The crash of a Northern Mississippi attorney's private airplane Wednesday, in which John Booth Farese Jr., was injured, has been linked to possible sabotage after it was learned through Federal Aviation Admninistration authorities that a loose oil filter caused the motor to lock up, which resulted in the crash.

The airplane reportedly had been anchored at a Memphis, Tenn., airport Tursday night.

Farese said he checked the oil before taking off on his flight and it showed full. The crash occurred 35 minutes into the flight.

The Farese firm, which is representing Dr. Norman A. Garrison Jr., of Corinth, Miss., in his legal battle to avoid extradition back to Missouri to face first degree murder charges, questioned parties involved in a civil rights suit Monday filed by the doctor about possible sabotage of his plane.

Daily Standard investigative reporter, Ron Jaynes, reported to Memphis, Tenn., police Sunday that someone had broken into his car while it was parked at the Holiday Inn on Brooks Road and stole papers and tapes in connection with the Garrison case. Also taken was a walkie talkie. Three camera's, a police monitor and CB radio were not taken.

POPLAR BLUFF — A Poplar Bluff woman received minor injuries at 7:15 a.m. today when the car she was driving collided with a school bus.

Mrs. Gutterman applied her brakes but the car slid into the side of the bus, according to the highway patrol.

She was taken to Lucy Lee Hospital. No other injuries occurred.

Crop prices continue decline

WASHINGTON (AP) — An analysis prepared for the White House says prices of wheat and corn are expected to continue dropping through 1977, thus triggering billions of dollars in federal farm subsidies under the farm bill now before President Ford.

The study was drafted last week by the Agriculture Department to gauge the impact of the one-year farm bill approved by Congress. The bill calls for increases in government price supports for major grain crops, cotton and dairy products.

The White House has indicated that Ford will veto the bill, possibly early this week. According to Agriculture Department officials, the analysis was intended as background material for use in Ford's expected veto. A draft of the statement and supplemental figures were made available to The Associated Press.

The draft showed that if farmers remain unrestricted in crop production through the next two years, prices they get for grain crops — assuming they get bumper harvests — will continue to slip as they have the past six months.

For example, the documents showed that the average price of wheat this year is expected to be $3.15 per bushel and then fall to a season average of $2.75 in 1976 and to $2.50 in 1977.

Under existing farm law written by Congress in 1973, the government's "target" support price for wheat this year is $2.05 per bushel. The Agriculture Department study said that is expected to rise under a cost-escalator formula to $2.19 in 1976 and then level off at $2.20 in 1977.

When the farm price of a commodity averages less than the target, government subsidies are made to bridge the gap. Thus, under current legislation, no such payments would be due wheat farmers through 1977.

But the one-year farm bill would boost the wheat target price to $3.10 a bushel this year, just below the department's projected market price average of $3.15 a bushel. Although it is a one-year bill, the administration says it would set a new plateau of farm price supports and thereby carry over through 1977 when the basic 1973 act expires.

With that assumption, the White House was told that the target price of wheat in 1976 could be expected to rise to $3.32 a bushel and to $3.33 in 1977 if the one-year bill became law. With both levels above the projected farm price of wheat in those years, the government would have to make subsidy payments.

In all, according to the analysis, wheat payment to farmers in 1976 could total more than $1.1 billion under the escalation prompted by the one-year bill and an additional $1.4 billion in 1977.

A similar situation was shown for corn. The department estimated that corn growers would be paid between $2.9 billion in 1976 and $3.3 billion in 1977 under the bill.

Attorney injured in plane crash

ASHLAND, Miss. — The crash of a Northern Mississippi attorney's private airplane Wednesday, in which John Booth Farese Jr., was injured, has been linked to possible sabotage after it was learned through Federal Aviation Admninistration authorities that a loose oil filter caused the motor to lock up, which resulted in the crash.

The airplane reportedly had been anchored at a Memphis, Tenn., airport Tursday night.

Farese said he checked the oil before taking off on his flight and it showed full. The crash occurred 35 minutes into the flight.

The Farese firm, which is representing Dr. Norman A. Garrison Jr., of Corinth, Miss., in his legal battle to avoid extradition back to Missouri to face first degree murder charges, questioned parties involved in a civil rights suit Monday filed by the doctor about possible sabotage of his plane.

Daily Standard investigative reporter, Ron Jaynes, reported to Memphis, Tenn., police Sunday that someone had broken into his car while it was parked at the Holiday Inn on Brooks Road and stole papers and tapes in connection with the Garrison case. Also taken was a walkie talkie. Three camera's, a police monitor and CB radio were not taken.

Woman injured

POPLAR BLUFF — A Poplar Bluff woman received minor injuries at 7:15 a.m. today when the car she was driving collided with a school bus.

The accident occurred on Route M eight miles west of Poplar Bluff when a westbound school bus driven by Milbourn Lee Gatlin, 60, of Neelyville made a left turn onto the highway from a gravel road as an eastbound car driven by Kathryn Gutterman, 48, of Poplar Bluff came over the crest of a hill. Mrs. Gutterman applied her brakes but the car slid into the side of the bus, according to the highway patrol.

She was taken to Lucy Lee Hospital. No other injuries occurred.

DAUGHTER IS GOLF STAR

HOLMES BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Pro Al Chase at the Key Royale Country Club on Anna Maria Island here says his daughter, Mrs. Judy Coates, owns more golf trophies than her father. Judy, a 2-handicap player, reached the Florida State amateur finals last year and holds the women's record of 28 strokes over the nine-hole Key Royale course.

Chase, who opened the lush 2,064-yard course on 30 acres of pumped-in land in 1966, holds the course record with a 26. The course is a private layout for members only and is unlisted on many maps showing golf courses.

Cornelia Hardin

104-year-old Haywood City woman dies

HAYWOOD CITY — Mrs. Cornelia Gray Hardin, perhaps the oldest Scott County resident, died at the age of 104 at 9:15 a.m. a.m. Saturday in Missouri Delta Community Hospital at Sikeston.

She was born July 17, 1870 in Lowndes County, Miss., where she lived for most of her life. She moved to Scott County 10 years ago and lived with her daughter, Mrs. Harry Jones of Haywood City, who survives.

She was married to the late Henry Hardin and was a member of Harrison Grove Missionary Baptist Church at Shuqualak, Miss., which she joined as a young woman.

Other survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Sue Hartfield of Hattiesburg, Miss., and Mrs. Lucenda Ramsey of Wichita, Kan; two sons, Willie Davis Stevens of Birmingham, Ala., and Roosevelt Hardin of Tutwiler, Miss.; two sisters, Mrs. Addie Fallin and Mrs. Pearlee Riddle of Columbus, Miss.; one brother, Morse L. Harris of Columbus, Miss.; and 50 grandchildren, 85 great-grandchildren and 12 great-great-grandchildren.

Friends may call after 7 p.m. Tuesday at New Morning Star Baptist Church in Haywood City, where services are scheduled at 1 p.m. Wednesday.

Burial will follow at New Morning Star Cemetery with Smith Funeral Home of Sikeston in charge of arrangements.

Crop prices continue decline

WASHINGTON (AP) — An analysis prepared for the White House says prices of wheat and corn are expected to continue dropping through 1977, thus triggering billions of dollars in federal farm subsidies under the farm bill now before President Ford.

The study was drafted last week by the Agriculture Department to gauge the impact of the one-year farm bill approved by Congress. The bill calls for increases in government price supports for major grain crops, cotton and dairy products.

The White House has indicated that Ford will veto the bill, possibly early this week. According to Agriculture Department officials, the analysis was intended as background material for use in Ford's expected veto. A draft of the statement and supplemental figures were made available to The Associated Press.

The draft showed that if farmers remain unrestricted in crop production through the next two years, prices they get for grain crops — assuming they get bumper harvests — will continue to slip as they have the past six months.

For example, the documents showed that the average price of wheat this year is expected to be $3.15 per bushel and then fall to a season average of $2.75 in 1976 and to $2.50 in 1977.

Under existing farm law written by Congress in 1973, the government's "target" support price for wheat this year is $2.05 per bushel. The Agriculture Department study said that is expected to rise under a cost-escalator formula to $2.19 in 1976 and then level off at $2.20 in 1977.

When the farm price of a commodity averages less than the target, government subsidies are made to bridge the gap. Thus, under current legislation, no such payments would be due wheat farmers through 1977.

But the one-year farm bill would boost the wheat target price to $3.10 a bushel this year, just below the department's projected market price average of $3.15 a bushel. Although it is a one-year bill, the administration says it would set a new plateau of farm price supports and thereby carry over through 1977 when the basic 1973 act expires.

With that assumption, the White House was told that the target price of wheat in 1976 could be expected to rise to $3.32 a bushel and to $3.33 in 1977 if the one-year bill became law. With both levels above the projected farm price of wheat in those years, the government would have to make subsidy payments.

In all, according to the analysis, wheat payment to farmers in 1976 could total more than $1.1 billion under the escalation prompted by the one-year bill and an additional $1.4 billion in 1977.

A similar situation was shown for corn. The department estimated that corn growers would be paid between $2.9 billion in 1976 and $3.3 billion in 1977 under the bill.

Safe water program set

The Missouri Department of Natural Resources will present a program for waterworks and city officials on the new federal Safe Drinking Water Act at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday in Two Tony's Smorgasbord.

Robert Miller, staff director for the department's water supply program, said the program is one of several being conducted throughout the state for waterworks and city officials to learn how the law will affect their water supplies.

At Wit's End
Son marches to different drummer

I've told you before about my son who marches to a different drummer.

Well, between the drummer and the drumee, I'm going to goose step my way into an institution.

I have been driven literally crazy by a child who is flakier than acute dandruff. Dumb things. Like playing "Bridge Over Troubled Waters" on the push button phone, adding $34 to the bill. Crawling out of the Grand Canyon and saying, "I have to go back. I left my billfold at the bottom." Leaving his cat to guard his bicycle.

Then one day you say firmly, "From here on in, you learn to live with your own stupidity and your own forgetfulness. Grow up!"

It was 3 a.m. last night when I got the call from him that he had returned from a skiing trip and was in a dark parking lot phone booth on the south side of town alone. "Where's my car you said you'd leave for me?" he asked.

"In the garage. We couldn't move it when you took the car keys with you."

"Right. So can you come and get me?"

Deep breath. "Absolutely not! Call a cab. You're on your own."

3:05. Suppose that was his last dime and there's a car at the curb with a gang of hoods in it armed with chains who won't believe that a kid with all that skiing equipment wouldn't have any money on him and punish him for it.

3:10. Suppose the police see him in a phone booth late at night with a big red S on his shirt for Snow and say, "We've got another Superman loonie on our hands, Walt. Let's run him in." And he spends the night in a cell full of perverts.

3:15. I've got it. The cab driver picks him up but is weird and not really licensed by the cab company but is filling in for the driver he has just done in.

3:30. Wake husband and show him the baby book. "Remember? It seems like just last week when he used to sit up in his little bed and say, 'Mama, more milk.' " "That WAS last week," he snarled. "Go to sleep!"

3:40. The air is fresh tonight. People should spend more time pacing their driveway. "HERE HE COMES!"

"Don't you see?" I explained as he fell into bed, "I had to be cruel to punish you to teach you a lesson. It's time you accepted the responsibility for your own actions. Do you see that?"

As he snored I marvelled at how he could sleep. Those lousy drums he was marching to kept me awake the rest of the night.

Ann Landers
Fast food place caters to salt and pepper nuts

Dear Ann Landers: Something peculiar happened to me this morning. Usually I eat breakfast at home but my wife is visiting her sister and I decided to treat myslf to a big breakfast downtown at a fast-food place.

I sat at a counter next to an average-looking guy. When my bacon and eggs came I picked up my fork (enjoying your column at the same time). All of a sudden this gink next to me says, "How can you eat eggs without salt and pepper?" I l looked at him and didn't even answer him -- just kept reading your column. Out of the clear, blue sky, the guy reaches over for the salt and pepper and sprinkles a load over my bacon and eggs. Then he grabs his check, pays it and walks out.

I was plenty burned and told the waitress the restaurant owed me another order. She said, "Sorry we aren't responsible for the nuts who come in here. If you want a second order you'll have to pay for it." Well, I did, but I still don't think it was fair. Do you? -- R. D. In O.City.

Dear O.: The restaurant should have served you a second order for nix -- as a matter of good will. Next time , eat elsewhere.

Dear Ann Landers: My mother- in- law has a photo album lying on her coffee table in the living room. Everyone who comes into that house sees it. There are several pictures in that album of my husband with his former girlfriend.

I was heartsick when my mother- in -law sat our two young daughters down the other day and showed them pictures of their daddy with "a sweetheart he had before he know your mommy."

I am so upset I don't want the girls to go over there any more. I'd gladly supply my mother- in-law with recent snapshots of the children if she would agree to take out the pictures of my husband with his old flame, but I'd hate for her to know I'm so disturbed. What should I do? -- Seething

Dear S.: For heaven's sake, Girl, open your mouth and tell your mother- in- law how you feel. She's no mind-reader.

Hand her some replacements and ask if she'd mind. It's crazy to suffer in silence when two sentences could put an end to your misery.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 26, divorced for three years, and have a child. My so-called sweetheart and I have lived together two years. Finally Mack asked me to marry him. That was three months ago. I made plans for a beautiful, intimate wedding. The invitations were out, the cake ordered and my dress and shoes bought. One week before the big day Mack decided he couldn't go through with it. He claimed he loved, me, but he just couldn't "give up his freedom."

Frustrated and fed up, I left him. Since that time Mack has been begging me to marry him. I believe he is truly sorry for what he did, but I'm so turned off I can't recapture that old feeling.

What's wrong with me? Am I crazy? Or am I just out of love? -- Mixed UKp.

Dear Mixed: I don't think your're crazy. I think you're wise for not wanting to marry a man who stood you up at the altar. Now you must decide whether or not you want to keep seeing Mack (and allow him to wear down your resisteance) or write him off and hope you meet a stable man with whom you can establish a solid relationship.

What's prudish? What's O. K.? If you aren't sure, you need some help. It's available in the booklet: "Necking and Petting -- What Are the Limits?" Mail your request to Ann Landers, P. O. Box 1400, Elgin, Illinois 60120, enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Frustrated and fed up, I left him. Since that time Mack has been begging me to marry him. I believe he is truly sorry for what he did, but I'm so turned off I can't recapture that old feeling.

What's wrong with me? Am I crazy? Or am I just out of love? -- Mixed UKp.

Dear Mixed: I don't think your're crazy. I think you're wise for not wanting to marry a man who stood you up at the altar. Now you must decide whether or not you want to keep seeing Mack (and allow him to wear down your resisteance) or write him off and hope you meet a stable man with whom you can establish a solid relationship.

What's prudish? What's O. K.? If you aren't sure, you need some help. It's available in the booklet: "Necking and Petting -- What Are the Limits?" Mail your request to Ann Landers, P. O. Box 1400, Elgin, Illinois 60120, enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Turkey hunt to May 4th

JEFFERSON CITY-- Missouri's wild turkey season runs through May 4 and early figures indicate it will be close to the 1974 season which saw a total harvest of 5,291 birds.

Hunters took 1,062 birds on opening day--compared to 1,066 birds in the 1974 season. In 1974, that was 20 per cent of the entire harvest. Hunters this year have one more day that they did in 1974.

A cool spring was expected to hinder turkey hunting success, but warmer weather at the beginning of the season rapidly was catching spring up with the normal.

Redbuds and other early-flowering woodland trees and plants burst into full bloom on opening day, though many hunters who spend the afternoons (turkey hunting ends at 1 p.m. CDT) hunting mushrooms were reporting morels hard to find.

Relay Champs

Chaffee's Robert Felker gained the lead in the mile relay and handed the baton to Fred Harrell, who coasted home easily to a victory.

Spirits lose star game

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Kentucky Colonels may be set to wrap up their East Division American Basketball Association playoff final by way of a bad bounce.

Locked in a struggle Sunday night with the Spirits of St. Louis, the Colonels were able to capitalize on a tumble by Freddie Lewis to speed to a 117-98 triumph.

"I came down on Artis Gilmore's foot," Lewis, the Spirits' 6-foot playmaker, related tearfully after departing in the third quarter.

"The doctor said that he will not play tomorrow whether it's broken or not," St. Louis Coach Bob MacKinnon disclosed before x-rays on Lewis' sprained left ankle proved negative.

Lewis, who had riddled the Colonels at a 33.3 scoring pace in three previous games, collapsed under Kentucky's basket as Ted McClain hit a field goal.

And, although St. Louis soon afterward surged to an 82-75 lead, a rash of floor errors and missed shots by his teammates soon extracted its toll.

Maurice Lucas sank one of three foul shots to protect an 85-79 Spirits advantage as veteran Steve Jones filled in for Lewis.

But, with Lucas and Marvin Barnes both missing shots inside at critical points, Kentucky sped from its deficit with a 24-4 spree for a 103-89 command.

Missouri U. goes to Air

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — The Missouri football team may have a better air attack next season.

The Tigersa staged their spring football game Saturday, and Henry Marshall, a split end, sparkled as a receiver of passes thrown by Steve Pisarkiewicz. Marshall, who caught only five passes all of the 1974 season, snared six Saturday and helped the Black to a 23-7 victory over the Gold.

Pisarkiewicz completed 12 of 21 passes and was voted the most outstanding back award. Tim Gibbons kicked field goals of 35, 22 and 32 yards for the Black, and Curtis Brown and Jornel Williams each scored touchdowns on one-yard stabs.

The Gold quarterback was sophomore Pete Woods, who completed only eight of 26 passesand had four interceptions. Tony Galbreath made the lone Gold touchdown on a three-yard run.

Galbreath, the star of last year's Missouri team, gained only 52 yards on 19 carries, being bothered throughout the game by Black linebacker Tom Hodge. Bill Cup, a Gold linebacker, amde 20 tackles, nine unassisted, and recovered a fumble.

The Black had only a 10-7 lead at the half but broke loose for 10 points in the thrid quarter.

Coach Al Onofrio said play selection hurt both teams. He added he wwas pleased with the performance of both teams.

"It wasn't quite as exciting as some," Onofrio concluded, "but the execution was good."

Locked in a struggle Sunday night with the Spirits of St. Louis, the Colonels were able to capitalize on a tumble by Freddie Lewis to speed to a 117-98 triumph.

"I came down on Artis Gilmore's foot," Lewis, the Spirits' 6-foot playmaker, related tearfully after departing in the third quarter.

"The doctor said that he will not play tomorrow whether it's broken or not," St. Louis Coach Bob MacKinnon disclosed before x-rays on Lewis' sprained left ankle proved negative.

Lewis, who had riddled the Colonels at a 33.3 scoring pace in three previous games, collapsed under Kentucky's basket as Ted McClain hit a field goal.

And, although St. Louis soon afterward surged to an 82-75 lead, a rash of floor errors and missed shots by his teammates soon extracted its toll.

Maurice Lucas sank one of three foul shots to protect an 85-79 Spirits advantage as veteran Steve Jones filled in for Lewis.

But, with Lucas and Marvin Barnes both missing shots inside at critical points, Kentucky sped from its deficit with a 24-4 spree for a 103-89 command.

Missouri U. goes to Air

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — The Missouri football team may have a better air attack next season.

The Tigersa staged their spring football game Saturday, and Henry Marshall, a split end, sparkled as a receiver of passes thrown by Steve Pisarkiewicz. Marshall, who caught only five passes all of the 1974 season, snared six Saturday and helped the Black to a 23-7 victory over the Gold.

Pisarkiewicz completed 12 of 21 passes and was voted the most outstanding back award. Tim Gibbons kicked field goals of 35, 22 and 32 yards for the Black, and Curtis Brown and Jornel Williams each scored touchdowns on one-yard stabs.

The Gold quarterback was sophomore Pete Woods, who completed only eight of 26 passesand had four interceptions. Tony Galbreath made the lone Gold touchdown on a three-yard run.

Galbreath, the star of last year's Missouri team, gained only 52 yards on 19 carries, being bothered throughout the game by Black linebacker Tom Hodge. Bill Cup, a Gold linebacker, amde 20 tackles, nine unassisted, and recovered a fumble.

The Black had only a 10-7 lead at the half but broke loose for 10 points in the thrid quarter.

Coach Al Onofrio said play selection hurt both teams. He added he wwas pleased with the performance of both teams.

"It wasn't quite as exciting as some," Onofrio concluded, "but the execution was good."

Cards, Royals on losing skid

By The Associated Press

The Kansas City Royals have lost five of their last six games, the latest Sunday when the Chicago White Sox pounded out 17 hits for an 8-6 decision.

The St. Louis Cardinals, scheduled to play the Cubs in Chicago, had their game postponed because of rain.

The Royals lost a 3-2 lead in the third inning when Pat Kelly walked, Deron Johnson singled and Ken Henderson, Bill Melton and Bucky Dent cracked run-scoring singles.

Trailing 2-0 in the last of the first, the Royals got two back on Harmon Killeberew's home run with Hal McRae on base and then went out front on a walk to George Brett and a double by Cookie Rojas.

Killebrew doubled in the fourth and scored on a single by Al Cowens. The Royals made their last bid in the seventh when Fred Patek doubled and Buck Martinez homered. Bruce Dal Canton, 0-2, was the losing pitcher.

The Royals play the White Sox again in Kansas City tonight and will call on Steve Busby, 2-1, to face Chicago's Wilbur Wood, 1-4.

Derby field at 16

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Barring a blanket finish in Tuesday's Derby Trial, the field for the 101st Kentucky Derby shaped up today at 15 or 16, saving Churchill Downs the task of having to invoke its new 20-horse limit.

Foolish Pleasure, Prince Thou Art, Dobolo, Avatar, Sylvan Place and Master Derby head the field for what could be the best horse race the Derby has presented in a decade.

John L. Greer's Foolish Pleasure, beaten only once in his lifetime, had his first workout over the Churchill Downs track Sunday, going seven furlongs in 1:27 4-5.

Frank McMahon's Diobolo, winner of the California Derby in track record time, took the track an hour later and went six furlongs in 1:14 4-5.

For the other Derby probables, it was more like Sunday, with a few galloping easily around the track, walking inside their barns or just munching grass and sunning themselves.

The Derby Trial is expected to include Round Stake, Naughty Jake, Dr. Abs, Rushing Man and Henry Clay, with perhaps two of the five to earn a start in the Derby.

Jack Dreyfus Jr.'s Round Stake, who won his first race here at Churchill Downs last year, has yet to finish out of the money this season and has won four of six starts.

Mildred Bachelor's Naughty Jake won a division of the Spiral Stakes and Virginia Hancock's Dr. Abs won three stakes races at Thistledown.

William Jacobs' Henry Clay is "not at all certain to go in the Derby," trainer Harry Trotsek said. "He's been coming along well," but it will take a good showing in the Trial to keep Derby hopes alive, he added.

Saturday's sports page incorrectly named John Scott as Joe Scott and stated that the hunter killed a hen turkey, which is illegal. It was a gobbler. We regret the error.

2 appointed to council

MALDEN — Noel Botsch and Noble Stephens of Dexter were appointed April 15 to fill two vacancies on the Bootheel Comprehensive Health Planning Council.

The men were selected during the council's meeting at the Bootheel Regional Planning Commission office in Malden. Botsch, who will represent Stoddard County and serve as a provider on the council, is a registered pharmacist. Stephens, president of the Dexter chapter of SeMo Diabetes Association, will serve as a consumer representing Stoddard County.

Layton Pickard, chairman of the council, informed members that the nominating committee of the council would meet in June to select a slate of nominees for offices for the upcoming year. The election will be held at the council's annual meeting in June.

Dr. Pin H. Pu, chairman of the review and comment committee, reported that a total of seven proposals were acted upon during two committee meetings in April.

Council action was requested on two proposals — Alcohol outreach grant continuation proposal, a proposal covering continuation funding for Farmington State Hospital Outreach Program in four geographic locations (Poplar Bluff, Salem, Sikeston and West Plains) was recommended for approval by the council; and a proposal for application for formula grant funds under Public Law 92-255 was also recommended for approval by the council. This application covers two live-in (five-day and four-night) seminars to be held in the Bootheel and Southeast Missouri areas. Primary clientele will be youth professionals, para-professionals and parents.

Objectives of the seminar include an examination of attitudes of youth-related personnel regarding youthful abusers of chemical substances and an establishment of priorities and implementation procedures for providing realistic and comprehensive support-treatment programs for such youth.

Four applications were not recommended for approval by the council because of duplication of services in the area. These proposals included: establishment of permanent regional training sites in Missouri; comprehensive emergency medical services training for Missouri; mobile emergency medical technician course and critical care practitioner course.

In addition to these proposals, a proposal for an addition to be constructed at the Southeast Missouri Mental Health Center in Kennett was recommended for approval.

All meetings of the Bootheel Comprehensive Health Council are open to the public. They re held the third Tuesday of each month at the Bootheel Regional Planning Commission offices in Malden.

Birthdays celebrated

NEW MADRID — Tonya Renee and Joshua Doyle Davis, children of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Davis, 895 St. Ann Lane, celebrated their birthday March 17 at a party in their home. Tonya Renee was 6 on March 11 and Joshua Doyle was one year old on March 20.

Shells very! Yolks vary! A dozen Grade A eggs will have a dozen different looking whites.

But there is no difference whatsoever in the quality or taste; however, as eggs get older, the quality drops to a lower grade. As quality drops, the whites become more watery ... tend to "run and flatten out" in the skillet; yolks don't stand as high.

Braise, cook in liquid: Shoulder and breast Cuts ... also leg, round, or ham cuts. Roast, broil, panbroil or panfry: Rib or short loin cuts. Broil, panbroil or panfry: Sirloin cuts.

We spend much time shopping for the food we eat. Remembering good nutrition and getting the best food buy for our dollar means that it is important that shoppers know as much as possible about the items available on the grocery shelves.

Take fresh fruits and vegetables! Would you buy a "worm-eaten" ear of corn? Or a "worm-pecked" apple? Wilted or decay spot on the outside can mean there's more inside!

WHERE WOULD THE CAMERA HAVE BEEN, WITHOUT A COLLEGE EDUCATION?

Still making Daguerreotypes, probably.

Instead, today you have color, pocket, instant and motion picture cameras. Because inquiring minds, trained and honed on college campuses, started experimenting with chemicals and film and lenses.

Disease-killing pharmaceuticals. Hunger-fighting new rice and new wheat. Petrochemicals. Radio. Television. The list of life-improving inventions that sprang from college-trained minds is startling.

You don't want the flow of college-bred new ideas, improvements, inventions to stop. Ever. Not if you care about your future.

Perhaps you'd better take a good hard look at how much you're giving to higher education. Inflation has hit colleges and universities even harder than most.

Freedom to experiment is the first casualty of tight budgets.

For the sake of your future. And your children's. And your grand-children's. "Give to the college of your choice. Now."

Officials talk

Ag club sponsors banquet

Commissioner of Agriculture, James Boillot, was the featured speaker at the SEMO Ag Club's Annual Spring Banquet Friday night.

Bill Dean, IV, of Sikeston, received the Ag Club Scholarship and Charles Harper of Charleston received a $55 scholarship. Most active Ag Club member awards went to Fred Higdon of Blodgett and Al Wideman of Hillsboro. Sikeston Production Credit Association awarded the Ag Club a check, based upon its number of members and club activity.

Commissioner Boillot congratulated the young men and women for their activity during the year and said agriculture needs individuals who can carry on highly complicated and technical businesses. He said he has faith in the young men and women going into agriculture today, as he has faith in the people who attended Sedalia Rock Festival, recently. He said it was a shame that 4 per cent or 5 per cent of all the people attending got all the attention for their bad activity, while 95 per cent attending the event were fine, intelligent, upstanding individuals.

Commissioner Boillot said the need for food and fiber will continue to be in great demand. He stated that countries such as Bangladesh are growing in population, so that in a relatively short number of years their population will total that of the United States, yet the geographic area is equivalent to that of the state of Wisconsin. The big problem in today's agriculture is that the farmer needs to concern himself with the people he will be supplying his products to before he can expect them to appreciate many of the problems he is having in production, Boillot said.

$600 stolen from Co-Op

DEXTER — A safe containing $600 in cash and checks was stolen sometime Sunday night from Co-op Farm Service Co., according to the Stoddard County Sheriff's Department.

The burglary was discovered early today by employes when they arrived to open for business.

Investigation is continuing.

Home entered

A burglar took $43 in coins from the Thomas Taylor home, 314 Allen Blvd., on Thursday night, police said.

The theft was discovered Friday.

Police said the money was taken from a coin bank in a dresser drawer.

Mrs. Taylor told police she and her husband found the front door standing open when they returned home Thursday night, but the theft was not discovered until the next day.

The burglar apparently entered the house through an east window. The coin bank was found under a bed.

Car recovered

MALDEN — A 1975 model automobile, reported stolen Saturday night from the Jack Powell residence, has been recovered according to city police.

The car was reported stolen between 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. and was recovered at 5:55 a.m. Sunday. The car was found parked on North Murry Street, a short distance from the Powell home.

The Prayer

"He who does not love does not know God; for God is love." (1 John 4:8 RSV)

PRAYER: Our dear heavenly Father, You sent Your Son, Jesus Christ, to redeem us of our sins. Grant us that we may love You and Him and one another as You and Your Son love us. Amen.

NO SLOWPOKES

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Gene Sarazen and George Fazio were first off the tee in the final round of the 1947 Masters golf tournament. With no players to worry about up front, they completed the round in one hour and 57 minutes.

Chaffee hires pool manager

CHAFFEE — The Chaffee park board voted Thursday night to hire Danny Harrell as manager of the city swimming pool, which is tentatively scheduled to open May 24.

Admission price to the pool has not definitely been set, pending the cost of chemicals used in pool maintenance.

Terry Glenzy and Suzanne Wachter were employed as recreational directors for the summer, and the board agreed to enter a five-year comprehensive planning program for city recreation.

Advance woman wins drawing

Irene Lizenbee of Advance won a $50 gift certificate as the second winner in a series of three drawings being sponsored by the Sikeston uptown merchants.

Her name was drawn Saturday by Tonya Florence of Charleston.

The final drawing will be held Saturday. The winner will receive a trip to Las Vegas and $100 in cash.

Phillip Barkett admitted to bar

JEFFERSON CITY — Four Bootheel area men, including one from Sikeston, are among the successful candidates who passed the Missouri Bar Association examination taken Feb. 25-26.

Of 209 candidates who took the test, 197 passed and 22 failed. The list of successful candidates now eligible to practice in the state was announced Saturday by the Missouri Supreme Court.

Bootheel men who passed the test include Phillip Barkett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip J. Bakett of 118 W. Wakefield St., Sikeston, James McGhee of Chaffee, Fred Scherer of Bell City and Kenneth Temples of Dexter.

EIGHT SHARE RECORD

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Eight golfers share the record for 31 strokes for the first nine holes in the Masters golf tournament.

They are Craig Wood, Cary Middlecoff, Ken Venturi, George Bayer, Jack Nicklaus, Roberto de Vicenzo, Mason Rudolph and Tommy Aaron.

THREE-WAY TRIPLE

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP) — Some stables, trainers and jockeys are thrilled to get one or two winners on the same program. But Audley Farm Stable, trainer Mark Wallerstedt and jockey Burl McBride turned in a consecutive triple.

What's the law

Lois was a fair-minded woman who believed that there were two sides to every question, her husband Harry's and the right side. The result? They ultimately signed a separation agreement, had it incorporated into a divorce decree and then proceeded to go on their own individual merry ways.

Of course, Lois' way was a bit more merry since, under the terms of the separation agreement. Harry had to support her for as long as she remained single.

Two years later, finally, Harry had cause for celebration. Lois remarried. But while whe married for better or for worse, it wasn't for very long. In fact, almost before Harry had to uncork his last bottle, Lois obtained an annulment on the grounds of fraud and sobered up poor Harry by insisting that he renew his support payments to her.

"What are you talking about?" asked bleary-eyed Harry. "When you got married, my obligation to support you stopped."

"No it didn't, " responded Lois, "As a legal proposition, an annulment means no marriage ever took place. And since no marriage ever took place, you still have to support me."

Climbing out of his shattered celebration, Harry zigzagged to a lawyer and the matter ended in court.

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you order Harry to resume his support payments?

This is how the judge ruled; NO! The judge held that when a woman obtains an annulment she cannot require her first husband to resume making support payments to her. If she could, noted the judge, a poor first husband would always be in limbo never knowing when his erstwhile spouse might obtain an annulment and lower the financial boom on his.

More motorcyclists on state highways

The Missouri State Highway Patrol reported today that there were 142,224 motorcycle qualified drivers in the State last year. Many of these cyclists will be on the streets and highways during the warm weather months ahead. With this in mind, Colonel Sam S. Smith, Superintendant of the Missouri State Highway Patrol, urged motorists to watch for these motorcyclists wherever they travel.

"Motorcyclists can appear unexpectedly in the traffic picture," Smith noted. "They can easily maneuver their two-wheeled motor vehicles in and out of traffic lanes. Motorists should be extra alert for motorcycles during this time of the year and be prepared to share the road with the operators of these small vehicles."

The Patrol Superintendent then remindeded motorcyclists of their responsibilities in traffic. He noted that they must observe the same rules of the road as other motorists and must operate their cycles in a responsible manner. Motorcyclists were also urged to ride with their headlights on at all times so that they can be better seen by others.

"There were 3,601 traffic accidents involving motorcycles last year in Missouri," Smith continued. "Sixy-five motorcyclists (drivers and passengers) were killed in these mishaps and 2,724 persons were injured. I urge cyclists and the other motorists to be extra watchful for one another during the coming months. Show courtesy and common sense as you travel on our streets and highways."

They are: Walter Floyd Carr, Abe Hunter, Don F. Keller, Charles L. Limbaugh, James E. Ponder, Harry G. Sharp, III, Russell Tanner, and John Allard Watts.

What's the law

Lois was a fair-minded woman who believed that there were two sides to every question, her husband Harry's and the right side. The result? They ultimately signed a separation agreement, had it incorporated into a divorce decree and then proceeded to go on their own individual merry ways.

Of course, Lois' way was a bit more merry since, under the terms of the separation agreement, Harry had to support her for as long as she remained single.

Two years later, finally, Harry had cause for celebration. Lois remarried. But while whe married for better or for worse, it wasn't for very long. In fact, almost before Harry had to uncork his last bottle, Lois obtained an annulment on the grounds of fraud and sobered up poor Harry by insisting that he renew his support payments to her.

"What are you talking about?" asked bleary-eyed Harry. "When you got married, my obligation to support you stopped."

"No it didn't, " responded Lois, "As a legal proposition, an annulment means no marriage ever took place. And since no marriage ever took place, you still have to support me."

Climbing out of his shattered celebration, Harry zigzagged to a lawyer and the matter ended in court.

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you order Harry to resume his support payments?

This is how the judge ruled; NO! The judge held that when a woman obtains an annulment she cannot require her first husband to resume making support payments to her. If she could, noted the judge, a poor first husband would always be in limbo never knowing when his erstwhile spouse might obtain an annulment and lower the financial boom on his.

More motorcyclists on state highways

The Missouri State Highway Patrol reported today that there were 142,224 motorcycle qualified drivers in the State last year. Many of these cyclists will be on the streets and highways during the warm weather months ahead. With this in mind, Colonel Sam S. Smith, Superintendant of the Missouri State Highway Patrol, urged motorists to watch for these motorcyclists wherever they travel.

"Motorcyclists can appear unexpectedly in the traffic picture," Smith noted. "They can easily maneuver their two-wheeled motor vehicles in and out of traffic lanes. Motorists should be extra alert for motorcycles during this time of the year and be prepared to share the road with the operators of these small vehicles."

The Patrol Superintendent then reminded motorcyclists of their responsibilities in traffic. He noted that they must observe the same rules of the road as other motorists and must operate their cycles in a responsible manner. Motorcyclists were also urged to ride with their headlights on at all times so that they can be better seen by others.

"There were 3,601 traffic accidents involving motorcycles last year in Missouri," Smith continued. "Sixy-five motorcyclists (drivers and passengers) were killed in these mishaps and 2,724 persons were injured. I urge cyclists and the other motorists to be extra watchful for one another during the coming months. Show courtesy and common sense as you travel on our streets and highways."

56 Signers – all Americans – all pioneers – all rebels in their day – all determined to free their fledging country from the tyranny of England's King and Parliament.

" - - - - - we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor." The closing words of the Declaration of Independence. How many of us would be so daring, so fool-hardy today?

So, in these Bicentennial Years, let's all break out the flag. Fly it high. Fly it proudly. Fly it to show our respect for the memory of those great 56 men who dared to defy one of the strongest powers on earth so that America might be born and grow into the greatest and most generous country in the world.

We offer at cost as a Bicentennial Public Service a complete home flag kit – a 3 x 5-foot double-stitched heavy cotton flag – a 6-foot jointed 2-piece staff with top ornament – a heavy mounting bracket with three screws – all in a sturdy 2-piece storage carton with full color flag history folder. Order yours today by mail or by stopping in our office. Use coupon for mail orders.

Viet Cong reject cease-fire bid

SAIGON (AP) — President Duong Van Minh was inaugurated today and proposed an immediate cease-fire and negotiations to end the war. But the Viet Cong rejected his overture.

Meanwhile, planes bombed the Tan Son Nhut air base on the edge of the city, and six parked aircraft were reported destroyed. The planes bore the markings of the South Vietnamese air force. There was speculation that the bombing was the work of government pilots opposed to dealing with the Communists or that the planes were among those captured by the Communists when they took over South Vietnamese air bases in the northern and central part of the country.

The bombing touched off a rash of antiaircraft and small-arms fire in Saigon as people in the streets dashed for cover. Rumors raced through the city, but authorities and persons touring the streets agreed that Communist-led troops had not yet launched a ground assault on Saigon and that there was no street fighting.

Fifteen miles northeast of Saigon, North Vietnamese gunners blasted Bien Hoa with an artillery cannonade that left the city of 500,000 in flames. The population fled, strung out as far as the eye could see on the six-lane highway to Saigon.

A spokesman for the Viet Cong's delegation to the Joint Military Commission in Saigon rejected Minh's cease-fire proposal in a three-paragraph statement read to newsmen.

It called for "an end to the Saigon administration, a tool of American neocolonialism, and an end to the machinery of war and oppression against the population of South Vietnam."

"In this case," the Viet Cong said, "the most exalted aspirations of the population of South Vietnam will be realized in a more favorable manner under the Paris agreement on Vietnam."

The statement said the United States must strictly and completely apply Articles One, Four and Nine of the 1973 Paris agreement and must respect the fundamental rights of the South Vietnamese people.

Article One pledges the United States and all other countries to "respect the independence, sovereignty, unity and territorial integrity of Vietnam as recognized by the 1954 Geneva agreements on Vietnam."

Article Four declares "the United States will not continue its military involvement or intervene in the internal affairs of South Vietnam."

Tornado hits near P.Bluff

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo. (AP) — A tornado, labeled a freak occurrence by a Weather Service observer, struck a trailer court south of here at mid-morning today, destroying two mobile homes and slightly injuring an occupant.

Authorities said twisting winds lifted an unoccupied trailer from its platform and deposited it on a utility pole before it crashed into the mobile home next to it.

A girl in the second trailer, unidentified, suffered minor cuts and bruises, authorities said. Dick Fisher of radio station Klid, a Weather Service observer, said the tornadic winds occurred while there was no such warning in the area and during mild, sunny weather.

5 persons die on state roads over weekend

By The Associated Press

Five persons were killed over the weekend in Missouri traffic accidents.

The victims, all Missourians, were George A. Yearian, 39, Jefferson City; Edgar M. Walsh, 67, Florissant; David Ellis, 20, Harrisonville; James E. Pentecost, 27, Richland and John W. Sharr, 16, Maryville.

Yearian's car and another vehicle collided early Sunday on U. S. 63 near Greentop in northeast Missouri. Six other persons were injured in the accident.

Walsh was driving a car that collided with a tractor-trailer four miles south of Houston Saturday.

Each of the other accidents occurred Friday night.

The highway patrol said Ellis was lying on a county road just south of Columbia when a car topped a hill and its driver could not avoid striking him.

Pentecost's car hit a bridge railing on Missouri 28 west of Rolla.

Sharr was killed and four others were injured when a car ran off U. S.136 just east of Maryville and smashed into an embankment.

Measure may save Missouri taxpayers money

JEFFERSON CITY -- First round approval has been given in the Missouri House of Representatives to a measure that may save Missouri taxpayers several thousand dollars.

Rep. Fred DeField says, "HJR 5 is a proposal to modify the State Constitution to prevent municipalities from resubmitting a defeated bond proposition more than once within a 12-month period.

"Each vote on a bond proposition usually costs hundreds of dollars of tax money. By limiting the number of times any proposition can be submitted each year, HJR 5 would prevent the costly and needless revotes, saving taxpayers thousands of dollars," stated DeField.

Also, knowing that they cannot constantly return to the voters for money, officials will have to be more careful with their money and plan. for longer periods.

In addition, DeField noted, "Constant resubmission of a defeated proposal lowers the credibility of government in the eyes of the people and causes the people to be very suspicious of even good bond issue proposals."

appalling and frightening to know that the might and weight of the offices of the state of Mississippi have been zeroed in on Dr. Garrison for some unknown reason or reasons. The crime, if such was committed, was in the state of Missouri and not in Mississippi. The sudden interest by these defendant officers is such as to cause Dr. Garrison and his attorney amazement and bewilderment."

Moreover, the suit says this is one of the first cases in which the attorney general's office has involved itself from the beginning to the end and one of the first in which the executive branch of the state government has concerned itself after the matter had left the executive branch and been vested in the judicial branch.

In the ninth point of the 13-point charge, Dr. Garrison states that persons have reported to him that he is in serious danger of being kidnaped and spirited out of the state of Mississippi and into the state of Missouri. The suit alleges such threats are calculated to place Dr. Garrison in fear of his life and safety, as well as the safety of his children.

The 12th point of the suit states that Dr. Garrison is a member of the National Guard, assigned to a unit at Jackson, Tenn., and must leave the state in order to fulfill his military obligations, but because of the acts of the defendants in conspiring to obtain his arrest in Tennessee, he is justifiably afraid to report for duty.

In the final point of the suit Dr. Garrison said he would further show that, for reasons unknown to him, defendants, individually and in concert with each other, have embarked upon a scheme, plan and conspiracy well intended and calculated to destroy him unless restrained by the court from doing so.

TRIBUTE TO FELKER

Now that spring is here our City is beautiful with flowering dogwood white and red. Maple trees other flowers and shrubs. Much credit should be given to C. E. Felker and wife. Daddy as he was known, gave much of his time having these trees uprooted and brought into town as gifts to anyone who would come to his home for them. Wehave some Dogwood and Maple in our yard. We appreciate their beauty and Thankful for Daddy and his wife (and other good people in Sikeston).

He will long be remembered by the beauty in Sikeston.

5 persons die on state roads over weekend

By The Associated Press

Five persons were killed over the weekend in Missouri traffic accidents.

The victims, all Missourians, were George A. Yearian, 39, Jefferson City; Edgar M. Walsh, 67, Florissant; David Ellis, 20, Harrisonville; James E. Pentecost, 27, Richland and John W. Sharr, 16, Maryville.

Yearian's car and another vehicle collided early Sunday on U. S. 63 near Greentop in northeast Missouri. Six other persons were injured in the accident.

Walsh was driving a car that collided with a tractor-trailer four miles south of Houston Saturday.

Each of the other accidents occurred Friday night.

The highway patrol said Ellis was lying on a county road just south of Columbia when a car topped a hill and its driver could not avoid striking him.

Pentecost's car hit a bridge railing on Missouri 28 west of Rolla.

Sharr was killed and four others were injured when a car ran off U. S.136 just east of Maryville and smashed into an embankment.

Measure may save Missouri taxpayers money

JEFFERSON CITY -- First round approval has been given in the Missouri House of Representatives to a measure that may save Missouri taxpayers several thousand dollars.

Rep. Fred DeField says, "HJR 5 is a proposal to modify the State Constitution to prevent municipalities from resubmitting a defeated bond proposition more than once within a 12-month period.

"Each vote on a bond proposition usually costs hundreds of dollars of tax money. By limiting the number of times any proposition can be submitted each year, HJR 5 would prevent the costly and needless revotes, saving taxpayers thousands of dollars," stated DeField.

Also, knowing that they cannot constantly return to the voters for money, officials will have to be more careful with their money and plan. for longer periods.

In addition, DeField noted, "Constant resubmission of a defeated proposal lowers the credibility of government in the eyes of the people and causes the people to be very suspicious of even good bond issue proposals."

Viet Cong reject cease-fire bid

SAIGON (AP) — President Duong Van Minh was inaugurated today and proposed an immediate cease-fire and negotiations to end the war. But the Viet Cong rejected his overture.

Meanwhile, planes bombed the Tan Son Nhut air base on the edge of the city, and six parked aircraft were reported destroyed. The planes bore the markings of the South Vietnamese air force. There was speculation that the bombing was the work of government pilots opposed to dealing with the Communists or that the planes were among those captured by the Communists when they took over South Vietnamese air bases in the northern and central part of the country.

The bombing touched off a rash of antiaircraft and small-arms fire in Saigon as people in the streets dashed for cover. Rumors raced through the city, but authorities and persons touring the streets agreed that Communist-led troops had not yet launched a ground assault on Saigon and that there was no street fighting.

Fifteen miles northeast of Saigon, North Vietnamese gunners blasted Bien Hoa with an artillery cannonade that left the city of 500,000 in flames. The population fled, strung out as far as the eye could see on the six-lane highway to Saigon.

A spokesman for the Viet Cong's delegation to the Joint Military Commission in Saigon rejected Minh's cease-fire proposal in a three-paragraph statement read to newsmen.

It called for "an end to the Saigon administration, a tool of American neocolonialism, and an end to the machinery of war and oppression against the population of South Vietnam."

"In this case," the Viet Cong said, "the most exalted aspirations of the population of South Vietnam will be realized in a more favorable manner under the Paris agreement on Vietnam."

The statement said the United States must strictly and completely apply Articles One, Four and Nine of the 1973 Paris agreement and must respect the fundamental rights of the South Vietnamese people.

Article One pledges the United States and all other countries to "respect the independence, sovereignty, unity and territorial integrity of Vietnam as recognized by the 1954 Geneva agreements on Vietnam."

Article Four declares "the United States will not continue its military involvement or intervene in the internal affairs of South Vietnam."

Tornado hits near P.Bluff

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo. (AP) — A tornado, labeled a freak occurrence by a Weather Service observer, struck a trailer court south of here at midmorning today, destroying two mobile homes and slightly injuring an occupant.

Authorities said twisting winds lifted an unoccupied trailer from its platform and deposited it on a utility pole before it crashed into the mobile home next to it.

A girl in the second trailer, unidentified, suffered minor cuts and bruises, authorities said. Dick Fisher of radio station Klid, a Weather Service observer, said the tornadic winds occurred while there was no such warning in the area and during mild, sunny weather.

appalling and frightening to know that the might and weight of the offices of the state of Mississippi have been zeroed in on Dr. Garrison for some unknown reason or reasons. The crime, if such was committed, was in the state of Missouri and not in Mississippi. The sudden interest by these defendant officers is such as to cause Dr. Garrison and his attorney amazement and bewilderment."

Moreover, the suit says this is one of the first cases in which the attorney general's office has involved itself from the beginning to the end and one of the first in which the executive branch of the state government has concerned itself after the matter had left the executive branch and been vested in the judicial branch.

In the ninth point of the 13-point charge, Dr. Garrison states that persons have reported to him that he is in serious danger of being kidnaped and spirited out of the state of Mississippi and into the state of Missouri. The suit alleges such threats are calculated to place Dr. Garrison in fear of his life and safety, as well as the safety of his children.

The 12th point of the suit states that Dr. Garrison is a member of the National Guard, assigned to a unit at Jackson, Tenn., and must leave the state in order to fulfill his military obligations, but because of the acts of the defendants in conspiring to obtain his arrest in Tennessee, he is justifiably afraid to report for duty.

In the final point of the suit Dr. Garrison said he would further show that, for reasons unknown to him, defendants, individually and in concert with each other, have embarked upon a scheme, plan and conspiracy well intended and calculated to destroy him unless restrained by the court from doing so.
